

Sponsorship Application Guidelines for the Japan Pavilion and Garden at the International Horticultural Expo 2027, GREEN×EXPO 2027

The International Horticultural Expo 2027, hereinafter referred to as “GREEN×EXPO 2027,” is being held under the theme “Scenery of the Future for Happiness.” It aims to become a new type of exposition that presents optimal solutions for the sustainable coexistence of nature, people, and society, while contributing to the creation of sustainable communities and economies and to the resolution of social issues.

The Government of Japan is preparing to present the Japan Pavilion and Garden at GREEN×EXPO 2027 under the concept “Reconsidering the Japanese View of Nature, Moving Toward the Future.” The exhibition will include indoor and outdoor displays related to Japan’s traditional garden techniques and view of nature, as well as new agricultural technologies and green infrastructure, with the aim of encouraging awareness and participation among future generations, especially Generation Z.

As many distinguished guests and other visitors are expected to attend, the Government of Japan also seeks to actively communicate Japan’s outstanding qualities and appeal, including its products, technologies, and culture. To achieve this, cooperation from a wide range of companies and organizations is essential, in addition to efforts by the Government of Japan.

Accordingly, the Japan Pavilion and Garden Secretariat of the Japan Association for the International Horticultural Expo 2027, a public interest incorporated association commissioned by the Government of Japan to carry out work related to the exhibition and operation of the Japan Pavilion and Garden, hereinafter referred to as the “Secretariat,” has established a sponsorship program for the Japan Pavilion and Garden and is inviting applications as described below.

1. Overview and Methods of Sponsorship

Sponsorship for the Japan Pavilion and Garden is a framework through which companies and organizations can provide support in the form of funds, goods, or services. Sponsorship may be provided by any of the following methods.

In line with the principles of the Basic Plan for the International Horticultural Expo 2027 and the Basic Plan for the Government Exhibition at the International Horticultural Expo 2027, hereinafter referred to collectively as the “Basic Plans,” sponsorship related to carbon neutrality, the circular economy, nature positivity, and the improvement of accessibility is being sought.

1. Financial Support

Sponsors provide funds that contribute to enhancing the appeal of the Japan Pavilion and Garden.

2. Provision of Goods

Sponsors provide, free of charge, goods and other physical items required for the Japan Pavilion and Garden. Ownership and related rights shall belong to the Japan Association for the International Horticultural Expo 2027, hereinafter referred to as “the Association.” Goods include assets such as property and facilities.

3. Provision of Services

Sponsors provide, free of charge, technologies, services, personnel, and other support required for the Japan Pavilion and Garden. Separate license agreements or other agreements may be concluded as necessary.

4. Free Loan

Sponsors lend, free of charge, facilities, goods, or other items required for the Japan Pavilion and Garden while retaining ownership. After the Expo period ends, sponsors are requested to collect the items and handle their sale, reuse, or other disposition.

Examples of Sponsorship Content

- Provision of goods and technologies that contribute to heat countermeasures
- Provision of equipment, materials, and technologies used for exhibitions
- Provision of materials, facilities, and technologies related to smart agriculture

- Support for inquiry-based learning programs implemented in collaboration with future generations

Details will be announced sequentially as planning for the Japan Pavilion and Garden progresses. Specific sponsorship content will be coordinated with the Secretariat.

2. Method for Calculating Sponsorship Value

The value of sponsorship in the form of goods or services shall be calculated by converting it into monetary value. As a general rule, the list price shall be used. If it is difficult to provide a list price, sponsors are requested to submit materials showing comparable estimates or similar examples. Details will be handled through separate consultation.

In the case of the provision of goods or free loans, the costs of delivery, installation, removal, collection, and other related work shall, in principle, be borne by the sponsor. Such costs shall also be included in the monetary calculation.

If the Association manages the loaned goods or other items with the due care of a prudent manager, the Association shall not compensate the sponsor even if the relevant goods or items are lost, damaged, or soiled during the loan period, including during transportation. Sponsors are encouraged to obtain insurance if they have concerns. Such insurance costs shall also be included in the monetary calculation.

If the sponsorship involves the provision of goods and defects are found in the provided goods, the sponsor shall, in principle, promptly collect, replace, repair, or otherwise address the goods at the sponsor's own expense.

3. Matters to Be Considered in Sponsorship

1. Sustainability

GREEN×EXPO 2027 aims to contribute to the realization of a sustainable society by communicating initiatives related to climate change measures, biodiversity, and other topics, based on its theme, "Scenery of the Future for Happiness."

Specifically, toward the realization of Green Transformation, the Expo will promote decarbonization through initiatives such as procuring electricity from 100 percent renewable energy, promoting energy conservation, and implementing carbon offset measures. It will also conserve and make use of the existing natural environment and biodiversity, promote venue planning based on green infrastructure, and communicate initiatives toward nature positivity through GREEN×EXPO 2027.

In addition, temporary structures within the Japan Pavilion and Garden are designed with consideration for reducing environmental impact, including circulation through reuse and recycling and the reduction of carbon emissions.

Accordingly, when providing goods, services, or other support, sponsors are requested to give consideration to sustainability in line with the principles of the Basic Plans.

2. Accessibility

GREEN×EXPO 2027 is planned and developed so that all visitors can spend time safely and comfortably, regardless of country or region, culture, race, gender, generation, disability, or other attributes.

Accordingly, when providing goods, services, or other support, sponsors are requested to give consideration to accessibility in line with the principles of the Basic Plans.

4. Compliance with Laws, Regulations, and Rules

Sponsors must comply with Japanese laws, ordinances of Kanagawa Prefecture and the City of Yokohama, and all other relevant laws and regulations in connection with sponsorship.

Sponsors are also required to respect the sustainability strategy and other policies of GREEN×EXPO 2027, and to comply with the General Regulations, Special Regulations, Accessibility Guidelines, Sustainable Procurement Code, and other relevant rules of GREEN×EXPO 2027.

5. Benefits for Sponsors

Depending on the method and value of participation, sponsors are expected to receive some or all of the benefits listed below. Details, including the scope and method of use of such benefits, will be provided individually.
